

a better view from the far upper left corner and told him that I always record formations from a distance trying to capture strange spheres.

I walked to my car to get the tripod out and walked back towards the field all the way up. In the left corner of the field there was a big pile of chopped trees. I climbed upon to have a better view, which I had, and positioned my tripod and camcorder and watched the area. Suddenly approximately 50 meters away from me, this object popped out of the tramline but now, really close. It was a bright white/silvery shiny round object with something underneath which looked like a piece of rope. My first impression was, that somebody was pulling me a leg, but I was standing on those chopped trees and was looking down and couldn't see anybody. I started my camcorder and captured the area where I saw this thing and waited very excited that it would come out again and it did, approx 1 minute later it came out of the crop in the next tramline, 15 meters further on in the field, the time was approx 15.30. It flew a half a circle above the crop and disappeared, again I noticed something attached underneath, and my impression still was, that this was a balloon, but how could this balloon travel through the corn 15 meters crossing the crop without seeing it, unless it moved through the tramline towards the other tramline.

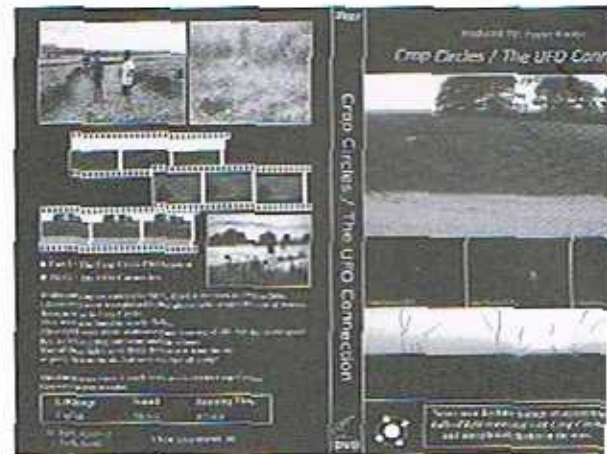

I noticed that all the people who were inside the formation looked at my direction, so they must have seen it also. At this point the farmer came walking towards me, and I told him about the strange object I saw and I still believed it was a balloon. He told me that sometimes party balloons do drop down on the ground. He told me that other people in the crop circle also had seen something in the field, I pointed out to him where this bright object popped out of the crop and he walked into the field, but couldn't find anything, there was nothing there. Terje Toftens a Norwegian Film producer and researcher also came walking towards me and I told him what I had witnessed. Terje also went into the field and looked around if there was something in the crop, he also couldn't find anything, at that point the farmer came back and wanted Terje to get out of the field, for damaging more crop than the crop circle already did. I also had to go inside the formation myself to have a look to satisfy my thoughts, I used the tramlines to go in but there was nothing at all. I stayed another hour, but nothing happened, so I decided to leave.

The next day Conny and I went to the same spot, I checked the field if there were any tracks. There was one track in the field, which was already there the day I witnessed the object and it looked like the track, where I saw this man walking in the field, the crop was broken and you could see that somebody had walked there, the track ended exactly, where I saw this object really close for the first time in the tramline. The first and second time I saw this object, it was exactly above a tramline. I checked the tramlines if they were connected with each other and they were. So it was possible the object used the tramline to move from point A to point B. Later I met the farmer again and he said it couldn't be a balloon, because if it was a balloon it had to fly over the field and if not, it still has to be over the field. That evening on the silent spot (East Field) again I met the farmer and his family, he told me that his wife also saw this strange object in the field, I told him that I recorded this thing on my camcorder and showed them the footage, they also were astonished at what they saw. As today I still cannot explain what this thing is, there is definitely something attached underneath, it looks like a sort of pole? Nobody has ever seen something unusual as this.

* In the same field the next day where I saw this object, Conny de Bruijn observed an orb leaving the field flying towards the sky. I also witnessed an orb flying towards the sky near the Chute Causeway crop circle that day.

FSR Commentary: Foeke has released an extremely important DVD of his crop circle orb footage called: Crop Circles / The UFO Connection. It is the latest documentary on the crop circle phenomenon. This film shows, for the first time, seen before footage of mysterious spheres (lights) rising in crop formations and unexplained flashes in the crop circles in close proximity of these spheres. *(The latest footage shown above is not included having been filmed after the DVD was published).

Language: English, Running Time: 87 min. To order the DVD contact the email address. UFOCUS@HOME.NL. The price of the DVD is £14.99 inclusive of postage and handling. Contact your order to:

Are the orbs acting as messengers from other dimensions? Foeke Koojje

FSR: The orbs you have filmed appear to exist at a much faster time line than ours, they seem to pass through solid matter, the wheat without disturbing it, they seem to be unaffected by turbulence or prevailing conditions - do you see this as evidence that they represent another rarefied form of matter, possibly from another dimension?

Koojje: Although I can't prove it, I do believe they come from another dimension, as I have captured this strange light on camcorder in 1994, in the thought bubble formation near Wilsford. This convinced me they are capable of moving through other dimensions and they do indeed work on a much faster time line than ours, this also explains why we mostly don't spot them, also they can fly really fast, simply too fast for the human eye. In the Devils Den formation from 1991 I discovered another 2 lights which I missed and have included in my documentary, they look like flashes in the air but they are fast moving orbs with tremendous speed, I captured two of them.

They can suddenly appear or disappear, remember the recording from; the Van Durckheims where the orbs on several occasions came closer and closer to the camcorder, the closer they came the smaller they got, till they vanished in the air. The Steve Alexander film from 1990 showed the orb while it was flying away from them, it didn't get smaller these things go way behind our logical thinking as a human being.

FSR: Have you tried catching the orbs on infra-red, have enhancements of the orb images revealed anything?

Kooje: The infrared cameras are really expensive, this would be a very good test, they will probably show up even more than on a regularly camcorder. Enhancements of digital stills didn't show much more, most orbs I have captured, are too small for a good blow-up. The bright light I filmed in 1994 is too far away for a good enhancement and was captured on an analogue camcorder; the quality of analogue is poor. In the year 2000 again near Wilsford, I captured some interesting orbs, which brought me a bit further. In one of the sequences, one orb is crossing the lens really close and this recording showed more detail, surprisingly this orb seems to be really flat, as thin as a piece of paper, unbelievable.

What if such a thin light approaches you, could it be visible for the human eye? Maybe not, unless it makes an angle, but then from your point of view it would look like it suddenly appeared. Remember things aren't always how they look like. As you maybe remember Steve Alexander's crop circle light from 1990 was analysed in Japan, this also showed no volume but really flat as a piece of paper. This encounter was also witnessed by a third person, a young farmer, who saw it, came over; he said it was disc shaped. It's hard to say what the shape actually is of these lights; maybe there are different kinds of orbs? After enhancement of the 1994 Barbury Castle orbs you can witness how strange flight patterns they sometimes do, one makes a loop before flying up in the air, while the second orb makes a sharp 90 degree angle. Seeds, birds or bugs, don't move like this.

FSR: The orbs appear to descend from altitude, where do you hypothesise they may be coming from?

Kooje: A lot of orbs I recorded during the years, came from the sky and they not just appeared compared with the light from 1994, loads of these orbs are flying towards the air or are coming from the sky, I do think they are a part of a larger craft, maybe even more advanced on higher altitude, I call these spheres "the messengers" they are the ones who are responsible for crop circles, they are the true circle makers. Remember the UFOs from Mexico, they clearly showed large unexplained lights with smaller orbs coming from underneath. I have also captured orbs in fields, with no crop circle inside; they were there also, but always close to other fields with crop circles. In 1990 a man filmed some strange lights near Stone Henge, this is a very important piece of footage, which most people did not see, and here you can actually see the bigger orbs in the air and the smaller ones moving around on the ground, similar as over the crop fields.

Although there were many people walking around, nobody saw what happened, when they analysed the film and slowed it down the speed they appeared, they can do their thing without being noticed.

FSR: Do you believe the orbs are aware of your presence when filming?

Kooje: I do believe they are aware of my presence, and they do know I, am recording them, and am only an observer and if they don't want to show themselves they will not. I think that they are capable to tap into your mind and read your thoughts. I know from people who imagined a symbol or meditated for a specific crop circle, which was found the next day in the field as if they were sitting on your shoulder and listening, or like having a feeling to go somewhere and actually see something. Once I spoke with a man who told me, he had a dream, that he was lying down in the crop in the East Field, the next day he went to the East Field and there was a new crop circle discovered, exactly on the same place where he dreamed he had laid down himself. There seems to be a level of communication with the crop circle makers sometimes, these strange incidents do occur.

FSR: What do you think the flashes are that accompany the orbs on occasion?

Kooje: During my research, I captured unexplained flashes in the fields close near, or in crop circles. I have slowdown the speed of the film to see it more clearly. It seems that these strange flashes only appear in close distance of these lights, some of these flashes can cover 30 till 100 square meters of crop.

I believe these orbs are producing energy pulses in the crop, which affect plants, what the purpose of these strange flashes is while some of the formations are already their for several days I don't know, but I'll bet this is the same energy source which affects crop, to bend over towards the ground.

According the BLT research team from the USA who does crop sample research, heat is involved while a formation is being formed, this causes stalks to bend over. The expanded or exploded nodes on stalks, who has been found in several formations, shows the build up pressure inside, if that pressure is too high it has to find a way out, and this causes expanded or exploded nodes, you can compare it with how a microwave oven works.

FSR: What do you think the hypothetical function is of these orbs?

Kooje: I believe they are only messengers but very intelligent, their job is too creating crop formations in the fields and not just any field, but well chosen places. I personally think they are also using leylines to position a place for a specific crop circle. Crop circles are often discovered near ancient structures or ancient places and that's not a coincidence, they are definitely connected with the crop circle phenomenon. Sometimes these orbs do show themselves to us, but most of the time from a save distance, like UFOs mostly do.

FSR: How do you feel we can better improve our understanding/research of them?

Kooje: First of all I would like to say, don't put too much energy in the hoax story it's only a waste of time, the only thing hoaxers do is destroying valuable crop. We can better focus on the real phenomenon and pay more attention on what is happening around crop circles, like the mysterious orbs. Analysing footage could bring us maybe closer, and give some answers on what they are, or how they work, or actually look like. This all could bring us much further, maybe they aren't lights, but tiny metal objects reflected by the sun, who knows.

FSR: How many orb images are currently in your personal archive?

Kooje: I have captured approximately 85 orbs, over the last 16 years. One of my wishes is to capture orbs creating a crop circle, maybe in the future, who knows.

FSR: What do you feel is most important in your observations so far?

Kooje: My Best recording would be the orbs over the East Field from 2006, again without knowing it. Here you can clearly see two orbs that drop down from the air in the field and leaving the crop, after examining the corn towards the sky. This clearly shows how they work, for me this is proof they were looking for a new position of a crop circle, but unfortunately there didn't come a circle on that spot, there was already a crop formation further on in the field.

The place where all the orbs were flying too was more on the beginning of the field, in the documentary you can actually see several orbs flying all in the same direction too one place. It would be more interesting of course, if a crop circle actually appeared later on that same spot, and even better, filming them while they are creating a formation.

If they would have made a new formation, I probably wouldn't have seen it that made it, unless they are showing themselves much brighter than they normally are. There are stories from people who witnessed a creation of a crop circle, but they couldn't see who was responsible for it, for them it just appeared. Also a good recording is, the 2000 Wilsford formation, where I captured three mysterious small black objects, they move slightly different than the orbs, but also close over the crop on seed head level and extremely fast, they also disappear sometimes in the crop. You can compare them as how a shark's tale moves through the water, which sometimes disappears under, too pop out later again. As far as I know these black objects has never been mentioned before. If these small black objects are flying in the sky, they can easily be mistaken with bugs, you won't see the difference. The object I recorded in 2007 very close, is also really interesting but strange, the way this object moved is unbelievable. I believe this object moved over the ground through a tramline, when it popped out of the crop again 15 metres further one in the field, there is definitely something attacking underneath. I have showed it too many people; nobody has ever seen something like this

They Move in Mysterious (Telepathic) Ways Hilary Porter. BEAMS.

After a busy day I was about to go to bed, when suddenly I had this overwhelming feeling that I must go to the door and look outside. This is how I often become aware of a UFO presence. Bearing what I believe to be an implant in the wall of my right ear as a result of one of my alien abduction experiences many years ago, now enables me to sometimes sense that they are near-by. I have spoken to many other experiencers who seem to have this type of pre-cognitive or perhaps direct telepathic communication from our UFO visitors, so it's not quite as strange or rare as one might think.

I recall on one occasion how, as I stood at my front door watching the skies, my gaze was met by three blue orbs with black centres, performing a kind of aerial ballet. It was truly mesmerizing: first they conducted intertwining manoeuvres then suddenly flying off, twisting and turning for the best part of a mile from each other before closing in and reforming as a group formation. After about half an hour the orbs flew east into a remnant of a huge thunder cloud that hung in the sky and I could see that there was a massive dark form inside this cloud with its top part illuminated in a yellow/white colour; this gave the top of the cloud the appearance of a brilliant edge to it.

One of the orbs flew into the cloud to the inner dark part, while the other two glided up to the top of the cloud and danced along, then seemed to go down to the internal 'form' after just a few minutes the two orbs flew out the top of the cloud, straight down to where I first saw them and there they started another sky ballet once again. It would seem that I was the only one in my road that was aware of what was going on. After another half an hour of patient observation I noted that at no time had they gone further than a nearby telegraph pole or over the wires, so I asked them telepathically if they could hear what I was saying and would they please go beyond where they had stopped so that I could witness them one more time before I went to bed.

To my utter astonishment, the orbs not only seemed to know how I was observing this visitation with my eyes, but also from my standpoint, because within a few moments they started dancing beyond the telegraph pole and the wires in swishing movements! I was ecstatic, as now I had proved to myself, beyond any shadow of a doubt, that not only were these orbs aware of me, but how I perceived them as well. This confirmed to me real communication and everything they were performing that night, oh boy, did I feel privileged! This is why, after many years of seeing what have been some very special UFOs displays, I always show respect to these aerial wonders addressing them with a courteous please and thank you.

A telepathic vectoring of a craft 22nd April 2002 in Adelaide, Australia. Om

Brisbane is approximately 1,700 km away from Adelaide where my friend was holding her weekly 2 hour session meditation. Ten people were in attendance at that meeting an experiment I asked if I could be included in the session even though we were quite some distance apart. My friend said that she would include me in the group session, lasted from 7 PM to 9 PM.

The situation in Adelaide was nothing out of the ordinary about my evening chores, although mindful meditation session in Queensland. Nothing eventuated until 8.45 PM, when my son called from a vantage point on part of our roof where he had a clear view to the horizon came up to see what was happening. To my amazement unknown was apparent in the sky. This light moved from right then went behind a tree, only to reappear to the left of the pine tree. The entire event probably took two minutes but none the less it was quite clear and visible.

In the excitement of the event I went to call my friend and her answer came back "I know exactly what you have just witnessed because we asked in our meditation for our 'friends' themselves to you in the meditation." One has to question, was this event pure coincidence or could a meditation session initiate the sighting over Adelaide?
